College Admissions Weekend for Parents of Uppers

February 12 & 13, 2010

Each year, the College Counseling Office hosts College Admissions Weekend for Parents of Uppers. College counselors and college admission deans will lead Exeter parents in a panel discussion and mock admission committee reviews; current seniors will reflect on the college admissions process; and current parents of seniors will share their experiences and offer sage advice about the college admissions process. The college counseling staff will introduce and explain the Academy's college counseling timetable and programming, and college counselors and parents will meet in small groups. The keynote speaker is TBD. A formal invitation will arrive later this fall.

A tentative schedule of events follows:
