

HARKNESS FACULTY: NEW DEPARTMENT CHAIRS NAMED

Dean of Faculty Kathleen Curwen

ART DURITY

The new school year brings with it a number of new faculty leaders, including the new dean of faculty, Kathleen Curwen (see spring 2006 Bulletin). A member of the science department since 1988 and the department's chair from 2003 to 2006, Curwen began her five-year tenure on July 1, and at the opening assembly on September 8, welcomed 26 new instructors and teaching fellows to the Exeter faculty.

Vicki Baggia, chair of modern languages department

BRIAN CROWLEY

Joining Curwen in her new position are several new department chairs. Vicki Baggia, who teaches French, German, Spanish and Italian, is the new head of the modern languages department. Baggia earned a B.A. from Brandeis University and an M.A. from Harvard. Appointed to the modern languages department in 1982, she was a recipient of a Brown Family Faculty Fund Award in 1997 and last year was named the Wheaton J. Lane '21 Bicentennial Professor in the Humanities.

*Rob Morris,
director of athletics*

BRIAN CROWLEY

Robert Morris, a health education instructor, has been named director of athletics. Morris earned a B.S. from Springfield College, and was appointed to the health and human development department in 1992. In his new position, Morris will oversee the Interscholastic Sports Program, which encompasses all of the Academy's varsity and junior varsity teams. He has coached varsity and junior varsity football, baseball and track.

Sarah Ream, chair of theater and dance department

ART DURITY

Sarah Ream '75 has returned to her role as chair of the theater and dance department, formerly known as the drama department. Ream, who was first appointed to the department in 1997, became chair in 2002, but stepped down from the position in 2004 during her sabbatical year. Ream has served as a member of the Curriculum Review and the Admissions Committees. She holds a B.A. from Yale University and her directorial experience includes working as staff director at the Royal National Theatre in London, the New York Theater Workshop, and the Writer's Theater in New York.

Scott Saltman, chair of science department
