

Exeter for Educators

Phillips Exeter Academy has a long tradition of academic excellence and dynamic instruction. Our intensive, one-week programs for secondary and middle school teachers provide enriching professional development in a variety of subject matters; select programs provide an introduction to Exeter's signature Harkness method of instruction. Spend a week living, learning and finding inspiration with peers and noted faculty on our historic campus in New Hampshire's scenic Seacoast region.

Join Us!

June 21-26, 2020

Fee: $1,500

- Fee includes dormitory housing, meals, program materials and return transportation to Boston and Manchester airports.
- All programs provide a certificate of completion and professional development clock hours.

Online registration opens in December 2019

Visit www.exeter.edu/programs-educators for conference details, including travel and lodging information.

Contact: Rachel Hanson, conference manager, rhanson@exeter.edu or 603-777-4471

See other side for the list of programs. ▶

“ Undoubtedly the best educational experience I've been to as a professional. ” — Principal, Indianapolis, IN

Programs

Anja S. Greer Conference on Mathematics and Technology

www.exeter.edu/mst

Mathematics teachers focused on the impact and applications of technology in the classroom will select two from dozens of courses offered. Featured speakers and optional mini-sessions are offered throughout the week. College credit is available for an additional fee through Lake Erie College.

*Registration for this program opens in January 2019.

Biology Institute

www.exeter.edu/bie

Biology, life science and environmental science secondary teachers will choose two of three courses offered, and participate in advanced technique sessions and field trips. College credit is available for an additional fee through Lake Erie College.

Environmental Literature Institute

www.exeter.edu/eli

Spend a week working with fellow educators in the environmental humanities, both in the classroom and beyond. Reflect on the current conversations in this field while gaining exposure to new ideas and materials to help build and refine your own curriculum.

Exeter Diversity Institute

www.exeter.edu/edi

Teachers from all disciplines will acquire new methods and materials for discussing race, class, gender, identity, diversity and inclusion in their classrooms. Learn how to engage students with the themes of social justice and cultural literacy.

“ One of the great teaching experiences of my life. I only wish I had done this 10 years earlier. My mind is still exploding with ideas. I intend to begin my planning for next year today. ”

— History teacher, Montclair, NJ

Writers' Workshop

www.exeter.edu/ww

Explore what it means to be a teacher who writes and a writer who teaches. Work focuses on finding voice, personal narratives and student-centered teaching.

Exeter Humanities Institute

www.exeter.edu/ehi

Explore the student-centered Harkness method of teaching, as taught by Exeter's experienced instructors. Geared to secondary school English and history teachers, each summer the conference features a core topic to guide the content and focus for discussion.

Exeter Humanities Institute West July 6-10, 2020 ◀◀◀◀

www.exeter.edu/ehiw

A second iteration of the Exeter Humanities Institute, taking place in La Jolla, California. This program features the same Exeter faculty, materials and instruction as the program in New Hampshire.